

ABSTRACT

An emitter has a rapid thermal process (RTP) formed emission layer of SiO₂, SiO_xN_y or combinations thereof. The emission layer formed by rapid thermal processing does not require electro-forming to stabilize the film. The RTP grown films are stable and exhibit uniform characteristics from device to device.

5